

Preparing for an Evacuation

A guide for your family and home

We are prepared for nuclear emergencies and urge our neighbors to prepare as well. Keep your family safe with a plan that includes evacuation routes, special medical needs, important phone numbers and supplies. Here's a guide to help you and your family get started.

PLAN AHEAD

To save time and avoid confusion during an emergency, there are a few pieces of information that will help you and your family be prepared.

I live in subarea: _____

My emergency reception center is located: _____

My best evacuation route is: _____

_____

I can pick my children up from their temporary relocation center: _____

My plan for my pets (emergency reception centers only allow service animals): _____

Evacuation Checklist:

If your subarea is instructed to evacuate, calmly and carefully pack necessities for up to one week. You can use the following checklist to prepare.

Things to do:

- » Listen to local radio or television stations. Emergency officials will provide information and instructions.
- » Follow evacuation directions.
- » Secure your residence. Lock doors and windows.
- » Pet owners are reminded that pets require special consideration. Make arrangements for your pets to be housed outside of the emergency planning zone. Reception centers do not have places for pets. All service animals will be received.
- » If you are not within the declared evacuation area, you should not evacuate. Continue to monitor the event and follow the instructions from local authorities. Evacuating when not required has the potential to increase the risk to your family and others by impeding the outbound traffic flow and slowing the evacuation from the affected area.
- » If you require evacuation assistance, make arrangements now by contacting your local emergency management agency.
